THE SOISSON.

"DINTY"—Marshall Neilan's latest production, featuring Wesley Barry, the freckled-face boy, supported by a splendid cast, is being shown today. The picture is in five acts and is one that will appeal to children and grown-ups as well. It is filled with thrills from the beginning to the close. "Dinty" is played by young Barry, who visualizes the 100 per cent kid, who may become anybody his American majesty takes the pains to be from a Schwab to a President. The picture shows reasons why a newsboy has all other professions handclapped in the race for honor. The cop on the corner gets to like him and cops know a lot of valuable things for a boy to learn and ponder over. Dinty may never have a chance to hear the preacher discourse on the text, "The Wages of Sin Is Death," but he will pick up a lot of loose information around the street, tending to substantiate that very fact. And if he has the gift to learn, he will have the power to remember. Through such a career as Dinty passing, a million Dintys, and Mr. Neilan re-creates this particular sample of a Dinty in the midst of a thrilling set of circumstances. All the shrewdness of the keenest minded youth is required by Dinty to get his way through the success and to solve the mystery which in Mr. Neilan's story battles the larger and more ponderous minds of the police. The program also includes a selected comedy. Monday and Tuesday Katherine McDonald will be seen in "The Turning Point."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE SONG OF THE SOUL"—A Goldwyn picture, starring Vivian Martin, the beautiful screen actress, is today's feature attraction. The program also includes the second episode of "Fighting Fate," the Vitaphone serial. Miss Martin, of course, plays the leading role, that of a blind girl, Barbara Seaford, and she brings to the part a surprising adaptability and emotional range. Her performance shows she is capable of fine emotional effects and her great popularity on the screen. Fritz Leiber plays opposite Miss Martin. His long experience with Julia Marlowe, Robert B. Mantell, David Warfield and Mme. Petrova, as well as his past screen experience, enables him to give a perfect and finished interpretation of the scared hero, Hilda Allen, who plays the part of the faithful slave to Barbara Seaford, is a character actress of unusual intelligence and ability. Monday and Tuesday Bert Latell will be seen in "The Misleading Lady."

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE GIRL OF MY HEART"—Presenting Shirley Mason, is being shown today as the feature attraction. Miss Mason is charming as Joan—a child who is a founding was placed in an orphanage, and later adopted from there by a cruel guardian. Unable to stand further abuse Joan runs away, and happens into the southern home of Rodney White, a young musician, who, in despair over ill health, is about to kill himself. How the little runaway girl brings sunshine into the life of the young man—who adopts her as a sister against the wishes of his puritanical aunt, forms the basis of a delightful romance. Throughout the picture comedy is mingled with strongly dramatic incidents. It offers first-class entertainment by a star whose personality is ever welcome on the screen. Raymond McKee returns as the star's leading man after several months' illness. A selected comedy is also being shown.

THE ARCADE.

With Mrs. Fay, high priestess of mysticism and clairvoyance, leading the bit and DeLoos' Masqueraders to back her up the patrons of the Arcade look forward to another week of magnificent entertainment. Mrs. Fay is very well known in this city. On her visit here last season she broke all house records for attendance. Seated on a raised dais Mrs. Fay rapidly calls the names of those who have written questions whether on their programs or on paper supplied them, and in short terse sentences answers the most personal questions that have been troubling the seekers of knowledge and at least 80 per cent of the answers are correct. Mrs. Fay is one of the most learned persons in the world in the psychic and occult lines. Mrs. Fay possesses natural gifts that make her seem uncanny, yet claims nothing for her work, other than to give entertainment. If you have any question on your mind that you need help in solving, ask Mrs. Fay. It may be possible that she can show you the light. Mrs. Fay will give a special performance for ladies only on Friday afternoon.
